

Susquehanna Valley Ethical Society

The Susquehanna Valley Ethical Society is a humanist, non-theistic, educational, philosophical, and charitable organization. We are inspired by the ideal that the supreme aim of human life is to create a more just, equitable, diverse, sustainable, and compassionate society. We endeavor to nurture the capacity and responsibility of human beings to act in their personal relationships and in the larger community to help create a better world. Our commitment is to the worth and dignity of every individual and to treating each human being so as to bring out the best in them and in doing so bring out the best in ourselves. We join together to assist each other in developing ethical ideas and ideals, to celebrate life's joys and support each other through life's crises, and to cultivate ethical behavior in the community around us.

The Susquehanna Valley Ethical Society provides a friendly, safe, secular, and totally non-judgmental forum for you to gather with like-hearted people.

The Ethical Society is financially supported by voluntary contributions from its members and friends. We trust the integrity of individuals to decide upon the amount of their quarterly contribution of money and/or personal service based on their own means and abilities. If you are looking for a guideline, it is best to speak to a member of the Board of Directors.
